Welcome to Catalog 97

History Folklore Religion Philosophy

Old, New & Rare

Orders and reservations accepted 24 hours a day, seven days a week by phone, email, and mail. Please supply catalog number, book number and short title. Orders confirmed within 24 hours.

All books are the first printings of the first edition, in their original bindings, in very good to fine condition, (no underlinings, library marks, worn bindings, etc) and OP in the edition offered unless specifically noted otherwise. I usually only have one copy each so order quickly to avoid disappointment.

PRICES: I have carefully, painstakingly checked every book here against the Almighty Internet and priced them as low as possible, almost always cheaper than anything comparable. The internet is full of erroneous listings, spurious “dealers,” “bookjackers,” blurry reprints and ridiculously high prices on many of the books offered here. I use ViaLibri.net, the largest and most complete search engine and unlike others ViaLibri is not owned by Amazon (though it does search Amazon, which now controls 75% of all books sold in the US). I’ve listed none of these books on the net but will soon.

PAYMENT: I prefer to be paid by check, payable to Todd Pratum, however if you would rather use PayPal then please do so. Past customers will receive their books with an invoice, payment on receipt. At this point I am not accepting credit cards.

LIBRARIES: Institutional libraries billed according to your budgetary needs, books sent on approval. Please let me know what your collecting fields are, and do forward my catalog to colleagues if so inspired.

POSTAGE and insurance is FREE on all domestic orders, foreign orders at cost. California addresses charged 9.5% sales tax.

FOREIGN CUSTOMERS: We have regular customers all over the world. We pack your books very carefully and offer the lowest postage rates possible. Books will be sent by cheapest airmail, (surface mail no longer available) and insured at cost. If you need a postage quote let me know. Payment by bank wire, US dollar check or PayPal.

RETURNS: As always any purchase is returnable for any or no reason, (though a brief explanation helps), please pack well and mail back promptly. If prepaid you will be refunded by check, or PayPal if that was your payment method.

THANK YOU FOR ALL YOUR ORDERS LARGE AND SMALL

1. Armstrong, A.H, editor. - CAMBRIDGE HISTORY OF LATER GREEK AND EARLY MEDIEVAL PHILOSOPHY. Cambridge University Press 1967 first printing of the first and only edition, large 8vo, stout cloth, 714pp, foredge is slightly spotted else fine in nearly fine jacket. Originally conceived to be a volume in W.K.C. Guthrie's History of Greek Philosophy, the period was felt to be so significantly different that Cambridge issued this separately. It is the definitive handbook to the period. There are eight sections each by a different authority, including Armstrong, Merlan and Chadwick. The sections are: Greek philosophy from Plato to Plotinus; Philo and the Beginnings of Christian Thought; Plotinus (by Armstrong); The Later Neoplatonists; Marius Victorinus and Augustine; The Greek Christian Platonist Tradition from the Cappadocians to Maximus and Eriugena; Western Christian Thought from Boethius to Anselm; Early Islamic Philosophy; plus 54pp of index, notes, bibliographies etc. CUP has reprinted this many times, this is the first printing. The latest reprint is $340.00. $300.00
2. Avalon, Arthur & Ellen, [translators]. – HYMNS TO THE GODDESS. Madras: Ganesh 1964 "third reprint" (1st ed c.1913), tall 8vo, publ's red fabrikoid in worn dj, 222pp, margins starting to brown else vg. Texts taken from various Tantras and Puranas, with footnotes and annotations. Avalon is the pseudonym of Sir John Woodroffe. $45.00
3. Balfour, Michael. – STONEHENGE AND ITS MYSTERIES. NY: Scribner's 1980, tall 8vo, cloth & dj, 189pp, well illustrated, fine copy. Balfour founded Garnstone Press in 1966, one of the pioneering publishers to take on the then radical writings of John Michell and others. $12.00
4. Beck, Peggy V, and Anna L. Walters. - THE SACRED WAYS OF KNOWLEDGE, SOURCES OF LIFE. Navajo Community College 1980, small quarto, paperback, 369pp double-columned, illustrated, mint copy. This little known classic is one of the best volumes I've ever seen on traditional Native beliefs and ceremonies. Written by two Navaho women, it is crammed with all kinds of authentic knowledge and wisdom, much of it practical as opposed to speculative or historical. Fully annotated with suggestions for further reading throughout. After encountering Ward Churchill I've stopped reading all but the best "native" books by non-indigenous writers, most of it is fallacious. $12.00
5. Besant) Nethercot, Arthur H. - THE FIRST FIVE LIVES OF ANNIE BESANT. London: Rupert Hart-Davis 1961, hardcover with dj, 419pp, jacket rubbed else vg-f. Exhaustive, with many plates. $14.00

9. Brotherston, Gordon. - BOOK OF THE FOURTH WORLD: Reading the Native Americas Through Their Literature. Cambridge: Cambridge UP 1992, large 8vo, cloth & dj, 478pp, illustrated with 18 color plates and 68 figures, plus maps, tables, notes, glossary, bibliography, and index, fine condition. Following in the steps of Jerome Rothenberg and Dennis Tedlock, Brotherston's focus is the texts by native peoples themselves, the prime repositories we should be studying and not the observations of culturally handicapped anthropologists. In so doing, a radically new and much more authentic account of Native American history is revealed. Additionally, Brotherston examines exactly how this knowledge was preserved and passed on in the New World, through symbolism, story, petroglyphs, cosmologies, the Incan quipu (knotted strings that told stories), Navaho sand paintings, the scrolls of the Algonquin, screenfold books, and other methods. Published at $49.95. $18.00

10. Burnet, John. – EARLY GREEK PHILOSOPHY. London: Black 1920, 3rd (and best) edition, original publisher's blue cloth, 375pp, a fine copy with the ownership signature of the philosopher Stephen C. More interesting than it may sound, Carlson branches way beyond Theosophy to explore the occult in general in Russia during that fruitful time. The paperback is $59.95, OP in cloth. $110.00
13. Chaney, William A. - THE CULT OF KINGSHIP IN ANGLO-SAXON ENGLAND. Manchester UP & Sandpiper Books Ltd 1999 (1970), cloth in dj, sewn signatures, alkaline paper, 276pp, fine. The author's focus is to unearth all possible traces of pagan cosmology and practice in English royal ritual and culture. $20.00
14. Corpus Hermeticum) Salaman, Clement Dorine van Oyen, William D. Wharton, Jean-Pierre Mahe, editors & translators. – THE WAY OF HERMES. Garden City: Doubleday & Company 1970 1st ed, cloth in rubbed dj, 224pp. In 2008 Jim Steinmeyer's biography Charles Fort, The Man Who Invented the Supernatural was published, which is more like a long gossip column than Knight's thoughtful and more compelling exploration of Fort's ideas. $18.00
20. Gandhi) Ashe, Geoffrey. - GANDHI. New York: Stein and Day 1968, large octavo, cloth with dj, 404pp, 18 illustrations, mostly B&W photographs, bibliography, and index, jacket a little torn and four small marks from tape residue. London: Routledge 1980 1st ed, cloth & dj, XXVII+177pp, B&W illustrations, notes and index of names, fine in sl worn dj. A lively and ingenious reconstruction of the intellectual world of a sixteenth-century miller who lived in a remote Friulian village, a reconstruction made possible by the meticulous records kept by the Roman Holy Office of the Inquisition, which charged him with heresy. The resultant trial, here stripped down to the most interesting parts, delineates the miller's religious, folk, and spiritual beliefs, especially astrology and cosmology. $65.00
27. Ginzburg, Carlo. - THE NIGHT BATTLES: Witchcraft and Agrarian Cults in the Sixteenth and Seventeenth Centuries. Foreword by Eric Hobsbawn. London: Routledge 1983 1st ed, cloth & dj, XXII+209pp, notes, index of names, and appendix, tiny tear in dj else fine. The agrarian cults referred to are the 'good walkers', a body of men chosen from those born with 'the caul', men who fell into a trance or deep sleep on certain nights of the year while their souls (sometimes in the form of small animals) left their bodies to do battle for the fate of the season's crops, armed with stalks of fennel, against analogous companies of male witches. Of particular value to students of the Inquisition, and to fans of Margaret Murray, since the folk-religious traditions of Europe are lucidly detailed here. $55.00
28. Green, Miranda J. - THE WORLD OF THE DRUIDS. London: Thames & Hudson 1997, hard-bound in jacket, small quarto, profusely illustrated. two photographs of Gurdjieff and 70 plates with paintings by Labisse, Ferro, and Rohner. Easily one of the strangest treatments of Gurdjieff ever penned. $18.00

Sold with: Guthrie. – A HISTORY OF GREEK PHILOSOPHY. Volume III The Fifth-Century Enlightenment CUP 1969 1st ed, as above, 543pp, fine copy. $320.00
34. Hall, Manly P. - ORDERS OF UNIVERSAL REFORMATION: UTOPIAS. LA: Philosophical Research Society 1949, small 8vo, cloth & dj, 102pp, illustrations, and notes, fine condition. Hidebound scholars will be aghast by the lack of footnotes or bibliography, but the late Manly Hall was a different scholar altogether, he lived and breathed his work. Once a week for almost 40 years he lectured in Los Angeles, without prepared notes, from his vast memory gleaned from one of the greatest esoteric libraries in the world, a library he founded and built up almost single-handedly. The utopias referred to here are mainly Rosicrucian, Christian, and Freemasonic. $40.00
35. Halliwell, James Orchard. – A DICTIONARY OF ARCHAIC AND PROVINCIAL WORDS. Obsolete Phrases, Proverbs, and Ancient Customs, from the Fourteenth Century. London: John Russell Smith 1887, two volumes, contemporary diced cloth, paper spine labels (chipped and defective), XXXVI+960pp, hinges cracked or cracking otherwise a very good copy of this the tenth edition, first published in 1847. Halliwell provides the definitions, and frequently the origins, of thousands of words, usually giving an example of usage in the style of the OED, quoting from such sources as Ashmole's Theatrum Chemicum, Sloane MSS, Harleian MSS, and many classics of Old English literature. The citations are for the most part short, shorter than those in Brewer's, but providing many more words. Very scarce. $115.00
36. Harpur, Patrick. - DAIMONIC REALITY: A Field Guide to the Underworld. Viking Arcana 1994 1st ed, hardcover & dj, 330pp, plates, fine copy. Harpur casts his net wide over phenomena areas esotericists are no more comfortable with than scientists: UFO contacts and abductions; crop circles; cattle mutilations; stigmata; visions of the Virgin Mary; the "phantom menagerie" of Bigfoot, Yeti, black dogs and lake monsters; Men in Black, the Gray Aliens, and the myth of satanic child abuse. He follows Jung in seeing these phenomena as psychologically real and mythically significant, fully worth the attention of the best philosophical minds. To explain them, he draws on the Neoplatonic cosmology, in which the daimonic realm is intermediate between earth and the gods. As in ancient times, it occasionally breaks through into the physical world, with disconcerting results. $45.00
37. Heninger, S. K. – THE COSMOGRAPHICAL GLASS. Renaissance Diagrams of the Universe. San Marino: Huntington Library 1977 1st ed, quarto, cloth & dj, 209pp, 117 plates and text illustrations, jacket a touch sun-faded but a fine copy. One of my favorite books. $110.00

40. Herbert, Jean. – SHINTO, AT THE FOUNTAINHEAD OF JAPAN. Preface by Marquis Yukit-ada Sasaki. London: George Allen and Unwin 1967 1st ed, large 8vo, hardcover with dj, 622pp, many woodcuts and line-drawings in the text, front fly neatly removed, a fine copy of this lovely book which dates from the publisher's golden years of book design. Herbert's work was the first major study and forms a comprehensive survey of Shinto, its history and internal organization, its gods and mythology, its temples and priests, the metaphysics, and especially the mystical and spiritual disciplines. Reviewed at length in the Journal of the American Academy of Religion, Vol 36, No.1 and in Studies in Comparative Religion, Vol. 1, No.4, where Herbert was taken to task for being too sympathetic to Shinto and over relying on the priests themselves. Yet to date it remains one of the few large histories. Good copies are scarce. $140.00
41. Hinze, Oscar Marcel. - TANTRA VIDYA. Based on Archaic Astronomy and Tantric Yoga. Delhi: Motilal 1997 (1979), small 8vo, handsome sienna cloth in dj, 116pp, illustrated, very fine. Really two books here, both of which are highly original. The first is a study of the interior symbolism of astronomy as elucidate by the great Arthur Avalon (esp the seven lotus flowers of Kundalini Yoga), juxtaposed with the astronomy of Ptolemy. The second is a comparison of Tantric Yoga, Kundalini Yoga and the teachings of Parmenides. The author quotes Gichtel the Bemenist, Kepler, Sanskrit classics and is obviously a mature scholar whose goal is a reconciliation of science with traditional cosmology and occult thought. $55.00
42. Houlihan, Patrick F. - THE ANIMAL WORLD OF THE PHARAOHS. London: Thames and Hudson 1996, quarto, hardcover with dj, 245pp on coated stock, 153 B&W figures and 35 color plates plus map, notes, bibliography, indexes, and chronology, fine copy. Beautiful art book from Thames & Hudson, one of the last few publishers who knows how to do it. Much on Egyptian religion and mythology. $16.00
43. Hurry, Jamieson B. – IMHOTEP. The Vizier and Physician of King Zoser and Afterwards The God of Egyptian Medicine. OUP & Humphrey Milford 1926, first edition, polished blue cloth with gilt portrait of Hermes on the front cover, 118pp printed on thick laid paper, frontis plus 16 plates on coated stock, a few marks to cloth but fine, autographed, "P. C. Varriers-Jones with the author's compliments" on front fly, name stamp of Dr. F. B. Lorch on pastedown. Sir Pendrill Charles Varrier-Jones created Papworth Village Settlement, an industrial colony for the treatment and rehabilitation of tuberculosis patients, later a hub for the first non-beating heart transplants, Dr. Lorch was a book collector whose library was partly documented and published in 1951. Hurry writes from a medical perspective. He dedicated the book to Imhotep. There is a new reprint that is easily available, this first edition is very scarce. $110.00
44. LaCroix, Paul - HISTORY OF PROSTITUTION. Among All the Peoples of the World, From the Most Remote Antiquity to the Present Day. Translated from the French, with an Introduction by Samuel Putnam. New York: Covici, Friede 1931 (1926), two volumes, heavy octavo, publ's cloth, 1481pp, extensive notes and index, spines a bit faded and gilt lettering is dull. First published in English in three volumes, this two volume set is revised and expanded (in spite of the number of volumes). Massive libertine history not entirely on prostitution but also sexual practices and morals. The first 500pp take us from Babylonia up through Rome, the rest of volume one follows history up to the renaissance. Volume two begins with Renaissance kings and their courts and ends with the French Revolution with a concluding chapter on prostitution in the theater. Paul LaCroix (1806-1884), aka "P.L. Bibliophile" may not have actually written this work, the true authorship has never been established as far as I know, Goodland's Bibliography of Sex Rites & Customs is of no help. $135.00

45. Lacy, Norris J. & Geoffrey Ashe, editors. – THE ARTHURIAN HANDBOOK. NY: Garland 1997, 2nd edition, cloth-backed glossy boards, 409pp, illustrated, mint copy. This second edition contains considerable revisions and additions. Published at $80.00. $32.00

Meaden went on to write a few books on crop circles. $16.00
50. Miller, Hamish and Paul Broadhurst. - THE SUN AND THE SERPENT. Pendragon Press 1994 (1989), large octavo, sewn paperback, 216pp, eight color plates and many B&W text illustrations, maps, and photographs, bibliography, and index, mint copy. Author Broadhurst and dowser Miller track the course of the enigmatic St. Michael Line for 300 miles through some of the most notable ancient monuments and shrines in Britain. "One of the strangest, most stirring books I have ever read, and it may prove through its implications to be one of the most important. For if the authors are correct in what they affirm, they have uncovered in the English landscape the most remarkable of ancient secrets." (John Michell). $14.00
51. Morrill, Sibley S. - AMBROSE BIERCE, F.A. MITCHELL-HEDGES AND THE CRYSTAL SKULL. San Francisco: Cadleon Press 1972, slim octavo, plain glued wraps but text printed on laid paper, 82pp, a few photos, vg-f. A fascinating book with much information about the most famous crystal skull, the Mitchell-Hedges skull, an exact anatomically correct (with moving jawbone) crystal skull found on a search for Atlantis. A true archeological enigma? Not to be confused with many other crude examples in the British Museum and elsewhere. In the end it looks not. But this is also a serious detective story exposing Bierce and Mitchell-Hedges as spies for the US Government. Very scarce. $70.00

52. Murray, Margaret. - THE SPLENDOUR THAT WAS EGYPT. London: Sidgwick 1977 (1964), 2nd ed, cloth & dj, 256pp, wonderful B&W plates throughout, a fine volume in fine condition. $28.00

Another 200 copies were printed in Boston, both are rare, combined WorldCat records only three copies, (however there is one copy for sale online, $2,000). Boyd's translation was first published in London in 1807, here with a new afterword by Sydney Colvin, who writes "the plates are by an unknown artist from the early Florentine school, each illustrating a personified triumph." Colvin was keeper of prints and drawings at the British Museum. $800.00

60. Plato.- THE DIALOGUES OF PLATO. Translated into English with Analyses and Introductions by B. Jowett. Oxford: Clarendon Press 1953, 4th ed, four volumes, publ's beautiful polished blue cloth, a marvelous set in near flawless condition, rare as such. I waited 25 years to find this. Most are familiar with the third edition, selling for $500+ these days, this is the 4th and last Jowett edition and superior in all respects. It was considerably revised and enlarged by D. J. Allan and H. E. Dale who provide a 15 page description of the changes in the preface. $520.00
61. Radhakrishnan, Sarvepalli, editor. – HISTORY OF PHILOSOPHY EASTERN AND WESTERN. London: George Allen & Unwin 1952 1st ed, two volumes, tall 8vo, publ's purple cloth, 617+462pp, spines a bit dull else fine condition. A massive and historic compilation of scholarship from the crème de la crème of eastern authorities, no westerners were included and this is what makes it unique. 62. Radhakrishnan) Murty, K. Satchidananda & Ashok Vohra. – RADHAKRISHNAN, HIS LIFE AND WORKS. SUNY 1990 cloth & dj (one of the few such bindings SUNY has done), 239pp, mint. The only critical and comprehensive biography of Radhakrishnan, one of India's most respected scholars and statesmen. He held both a British Knighthood and Oxford professorship, and was president of India after Nehru. His books remain some of the finest English language texts on Hinduism for the mature western student. This work gives you a synthesis of his philosophical and religious beliefs, his biography with an up close glimpse into his personal life, (one that was complicated by his twin loyalties), but also a fine look at Indian history during his long life. Published at $54.50 then remaindered... $9.00

London: Rider 1920 1st ed, publ's red cloth, 205pp plus ads, 53 plates and text illustrations including frontis, rear joint worn and fraying, spine lettering dull, a good copy with Joscelyn Godwin's bookplate, scarce. Redgrove has been unfairly marginalized because he wrote in popular tones, but he was a recognized scientist also fascinated by the occult, a Fellow of the Chemical Society, and editor of the Journal of the Alchemical Society. Chapters on Pythagoras, folklore of birds, talismans, ceremonial magic, phallic symbolism, the Cambridge Platonists and much else. A very enjoyable reading experience with plenty of meaty footnotes. $55.00

Sharpe (1799-1881) was a Unitarian banker whose passion for the ancient world fueled his many books, including his own (partial) translation of the Bible. This was a popular one, going into at least six editions, with only minor changes of the text in each, now surprisingly scarce. $110.00
68. Silverman, David P, editor. - SEARCHING FOR ANCIENT EGYPT. Art, Architecture, and Artifacts from the University of Pennsylvania Museum of Archaeology and Anthropology. Dallas Museum of Art & Cornell University Press 1997, heavy quarto, cloth in jacket, 342pp, profusely illustrated in color and black & white, mint copy. 69. Smiles, Sam. - THE IMAGE OF ANTIQUITY: Ancient Britain and the Romantic Imagination. Yale 1994, small quarto, cloth with dj, 252pp, 128 B&W photographs and reproductions, notes, bibliography, and index, mint copy. In exploring how the remote past of England was imagined, and the role the visual arts played in this romance, Smiles brings us valuable information regarding the antiquarians of the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries, those who did the research and wrote the many books we now treasure as our sources of Druidical and Bardic history and the megalithic sites associated with them. An important book for those wishing to define fact from fancy, and for those interested in the mythologizing of the past, Blake, the Celtic Revival, etc. $55.00
70. Squier, E. G. & E. H. Davis. - ANCIENT MONUMENTS OF THE MISSISSIPPI VALLEY. Dedicated to Albert Gallatin, (founder of the American Ethnological Society). Very rare, no copies online and the only copy I've seen for sale in at least 28 years. This is a real piece of occult Americana. Ephraim George Squier (1821 - 1888) was an autodidact and prodigy whose profound erudition here inspired the Smithsonian to make this their inaugural publication. $1100.00
71. Standish, David. HOLLOW EARTH. The Long and Curious History of Imagining Strange Lands, Fantastical Creatures, Advanced Civilizations, and Marvelous Machines Below the Earth's Surface. 76. Thoreau) Bonner, Willard H. – HARP ON THE SEA. Thoreau and the Sea. Edited and Compiled by George R. Levine. Albany: SUNY 1985, glossy boards, sewn, 128pp. Published at $59.50. Bonner has written many books on Thoreau, whose love of the sea has not been often recognized. Thoreau's passion for New England's maritime culture, and his metaphors of the ocean, water, and sea are here explored in a subtle way without the pedantry one might expect. This was Bonner's last book before he died in 1988. $12.00
77. Todd, Ruthven. - TRACKS IN THE SNOW: Studies in English Science and Art. London: The Grey Walls Press 1946, slim octavo, cloth with dj, 133pp, mostly fine copy with Joscelyn Godwin's bookplate and signature. Important chapters on Blake, Higgins, etc. $12.00
78. Tompkins, Peter. - SECRETS OF THE GREAT PYRAMID. With an Appendix by Livio Catullo Stecchini. Harper 1971, quarto, cloth & dj, 416pp, fine copy of a book usually found worn, with famed psychologist Carl R. Rogers's signature on the title page, (I bought this in La Jolla where Rogers lived and where I grew up). Superbly illustrated throughout, this is the single best book on the subject (and that is saying a lot). It is great because Tompkins was able to distill into one volume the essence of hundreds of years of exploration, scholarship, and philosophy, and digest the thousands of books written before him. There is little he seems to have missed. Most importantly, he did it with a rare and marvelously enlightened style, with a wit and precision that often reminds me of John Michell, his friend. It is this work more than any other that was responsible for the renewed popular interest in the ignored origins of civilization. The appendix is a 100-page mathematical treatise understandable only, I am sure, by those with a strong amateur knowledge of pyramidology, geometry, and mathematics. There is also an extremely useful glossary that includes biographies of various personages and significant antiquarians, and a lengthy bibliography. The illustrations, mostly taken from old books, are exceptional and a joy. Among other historical books, Tompkins wrote The Eunuch and the Virgin (1963), a fascinating work on sexual custom and perversity in the antique and primitive world, a world he first encountered during his espionage days for the British Government in the east. $60.00

79. Vickery, Roy, compiler. - UNLUCKY PLANTS. A Folklore Survey. London: The Folklore Society 1985, small 8vo wraps, 92pp. Though this is a recent book, already the paper is browning due to acid content. The text is divided up by plant species, with accounts of their various un-luckiness. These stories were collected in the field. Scarce. $55.00
80. Waddell, L. A. - THE MAKERS OF CIVILIZATION IN RACE & HISTORY. Showing the Rise of the Aryans or Sumerians, their Origination & Propagation of Civilization, their Extension of it to Egypt & Crete Personalities & Achievements of their Kings, Historical Originals of Mythic Gods & Heroes with Dates from the Rise of Civilization about 3380 B.C. Reconstructed from Babylonian, Egyptian, Hittite, Indian & Gothic Sources. London: Luzac 1929 1st ed, large heavy 8vo, publ's gilt cloth, LVI+646pp plus unpaginated plates II-XXIV, with an additional 25 b & w plates on coated stock including frontispiece and over 150 b & w figures, maps, charts & tables, some of which are full-page several of which are folding & extending, index & notes, the frontis is detached (publ's poor gluing), otherwise a lovely copy of this huge work, inscribed by the author on the title page. Waddell (1854-1938) is easily one of the most fascinating and confounding historians of the ancient world, said by some to be the real life inspiration of 'Indian Jones'. Of all his books this is surely his magnum opus, of course rejected whole-heartedly by the establishment. Rare. $220.00

Madras: Ganesh 1964, (1929), tall 8vo, cloth, VII+260pp, lightly torn and chipped jacket, vg-f condition. In the introduction by M. Pandit he confirms that this Englishman had a rare and at times unique ability--still unsurpassed in some cases--to convey the inscrutable complexities of the Tantras and other Indian texts to the Western reader without losing any of the subtleties. It should also be known that while his books are all still in print in India and available in any really good esoteric bookshop (such as there are these days), the new publishers have made the poor decision to re-issue them in cheap plastic bindings, and in some cases have deleted the original Sanskrit words! $45.00
